NT8000 Smart Time Clock

The world of time clocks is changing

It's much more than a way to track time. You need a tool that works hard, so you can focus on the bigger picture; a tool that crosses t's and dots i's, so you have the confidence the data is correct; a tool that acts as an extension of your HR team to help employees with their questions night and day.

Introducing the NT8000, with more powerful technology and friendlier user interfaces that offer more functionality and customization. Plus, security and privacy are front and center to keep your employees and company in compliance.
